Promoters can now retain 26% shareholding in banks

FE BUREAU New Delhi, November 26

RESERVE BANK OF India (RBI) has refrained from permitting corporate ownership of banks, putting on hold a working group recommendation that said large corporate and industrial houses may be allowed to promote banks post amendments to the Banking Regulations Act, 1949. The central bank has also not accepted a recommendation to allow well-run, large NBFCs, including those owned by a corporate house, to become banks. Both suggestions, it said, on Friday, are "under examination".

However, RBI has allowed promoters to retain a 26% shareholding in banks, higher than the current cap of 15%, bringing relief to bankers like Kotak Mahindra Bank's Uday Kotak. The 26% is in line with the ceiling on the voting rights of a shareholder and in keeping with the current FDI policy. The PJ Nayak Committee

NEHA ARORA New Delhi, November 26

INDIA SAID ON Friday it will resume international passenger flights from mid-December with Covid-19 linked curbs for "at risk" countries, and ordered tightened screening at borders as fears over a new coronavirus variant spread globally.

The Union health ministry said reports of mutations in the variant, identified as B.1.1.529, had "serious public health implications", and asked states to adopt rigorous screening and testing for all passengers from South Africa and other "at risk" countries.

"This variant is reported to have a significantly high number of mutations, and thus, has serious public health implications for the country in view of recently relaxed visa curbs and opening up of international travel," health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said in a letter to states.

Govt proposes framework for cross-border insolvency; seeks comments

till Dec 15

THE GOVERNMENT IS preparing to come out with a crossborder insolvency resolution framework based on the UNCI-TRAL model law and is proposed to be made applicable for both corporate debtors as well as personal guarantors to such debtors. The corporate affairs ministry, which is implementing the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), has sought comments on the draft framework till December 15.

Broadly, cross-border insolvency process pertains to those debtors having assets and creditors overseas. According to the ministry, the need for having robust institutional arrangements to deal with cross-border insolvency issues has gained momentum in various jurisdictions, particularly under the aegis of UNCITRAL Model Law, during the last few decades. The UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency, 1997, is the most widely accepted legal framework to deal with cross-border insolvency issues. — PTI

Serum Institute resumes Covid-19 vaccine exports

FE BUREAU

Pune, November 26

SERUM INSTITUTE OF India (SII) on Friday resumed exports to the international vaccine sharing programme COVAX. The first batches of its Covishield Covid-19 vaccine left the SII manufacturing facility in Pune for distribution to low and middle income countries via the COVAX mechanism.

SII's supply of doses via COVAX is expected to increase substantially in the first quarter of 2022.

SII also surpassed the 1.25 billion vaccine doses production at its Pune facility. The company said resumption of exports was linked to SII surpassing its original target to produce one billion doses of Covishield by the end of this year. SII had reached this milestone ahead of time via rapid expansion of production capacity at its site in Pune, the company said.

SII will bring into production other vaccines under licence, which will include Covovax from US-based company Novavax that received its first Emergency Use Authorisations (EUAs) from regulators in Indonesia and the Philippines.

Regulatory reviews are pending for Covovax in India and with the World Health Organization.

Adar Poonawalla, CEO of Serum Institute of India, said, "It's a huge moment to begin exports again, for us, our partners at COVAX and the low- and middleincome countries we support.

"The world has largely depended on the low-cost, high-quality pharmaceuticals and vaccines that India has traditionally exported, so we are delighted to support the global vaccination effort once more." AstraZeneca, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Gavi, UNICEF and the WHO had shown confidence in SII's ability to keep on track and they were all hopeful of meeting WHO's target to vaccinate 70% of the world's population by the middle of next year, Poonawalla said.

Dr Seth Berkley, CEO of Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, which leads the COVAX Facility said the resumption of supplies from Serum Institute was an important development for COVAX as it entered its busiest period yet for shipping vaccines to participating economies.

COVAX's portfolio is now much more diversified than it was earlier this year and Covishield remains an important product, Berkley said.

Dr Reddy's spokesperson said Sputnik would continue to be relevant and meaningful in the India's Covid-19 vaccination programme. SIXTH EDITION: HOW CAN WE IMPROVE HOUSING FOR MIGRANTS?

AMITA BHIDE PROFESSOR, TATA INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

We've equated housing to permanent housing, ownership housing... We've not talked about migration. There is policy amnesia when it comes to thinking about (housing for) migrants

GAUTAM BHAN ASSOCIATE DEAN, INDIAN INSTITUTE OF HUMAN SETTLEMENTS

You can't answer a housing question in a structurally unequal economy where wages are stagnant. There is no market and no supply solution that will do enough

MANIKANDAN KP INSTITUTION BUILDER, INDIAN HOUSING FEDERATION

What we should realise is that we are also part of the problem and we have created this problem. It is our responsibility to find a solution

SHRAYANA BHATTACHARYA SENIOR SOCIAL PROTECTION ECONOMIST, WORLD BANK

The focus in India is supplyside driven. Obviously, there are serious regulatory challenges. But if you look at Latin America, they've used a lot of demand-side incentives

'Boosting housing supply is necessary, not sufficient'

At the sixth edition of the eight-part IE Thinc Migration series, presented by The Indian Express with Omidyar Network India and moderated by deputy associate editor Udit Misra, panelists discussed solutions around complexities in regulation, migrant identity, credit worthiness and their role in providing housing for migrants

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

IQBAL SINGH CHAHAL, COMMISSIONER, BRIHANMUMBAI MUNICIPAL CORPORATION (BMC)

MIGRANT LABOUR IS the backbone of the economy. They have a major role in developing the country. The government of Maharashtra had passed a very ambitious new housing policy way back in 2008, where the concept of rental housing was launched for the first time. The Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority (MMRDA) was made a nodal agency for the entire MMR — these are eight-nine municipal corporations in and around Mumbai, including MCGM (Municipal Corporation for Greater Mumbai), which houses almost 2.5 crore population and more than a million migrant population. And this rental housing would be provided to migrant labourers by charging some nominal monthly rent. Many developers came forward. So, right now, 42,000 tenements are under construction, which can house more than a lakh people. The 42,000 tenements, which have sanctions, include major real estate players like Tata, Dosti Group, Symphony and Adhiraj. Anyone who comes to Mumbai, instead of staying in an unauthorised manner in slums, can be given this rented accommodation till he gets a proper place. Then we came up with this very ambitious policy of accommodation reservation under which we will build a sizeable amount of rental housing in the next five years. This is something which can help migrant labourers. I'm sure this idea can be replicated in many bigger cities of India, where the local municipal authority doesn't shell out anything at all except the construction cost of that building.

On understanding migrant behaviour

GAUTAM BHAN: Migrants are not unmarked bodies that come only into housing markets marked by demand and supply. They are a part of deep identitylinked movements that are shaped in certain ways. So why do we not learn from migrants on how they have produced that housing and what can we do to make this process easier, shorter and better. I think it's important that we don't start seeing migrants as helpless, invisible, unseen. They are hyper visible and deliberately invisibilised.

We can't build our way out of India's housing shortage. We will never, no matter how well-intentioned the government is, have the capacity to build at the scale we want. The largest stock of affordable housing in Indian cities has been built by people themselves, always in tension with law and planning. But the major work has to say: protect, regulate, recognise all the informal, inadequate rental housing that is all over our cities today. Begin to protect and improve that housing.

On jurisdiction and government responsibility

SHRAYANA BHATTACHARYA: The solution always seems to be a scheme and it's the same housing scheme. One of the key principles of the housing policy has to be decentralisation. It has to allow and empower local governments, not just at the state level, I would contend, particularly if you look at the Mexican, Brazilian, or even Chinese examples, the way a lot of these problems are addressed is not by having a one-size-fits-all programme. It in fact, creates regulation, which allows for a lot more dynamism.

On what's holding back the state government

MANIKANDAN: The simple answer to this is the greater level of difficulty in getting this solved. In rental housing, the user who's going to pay the rent is not going to participate in the process of getting the housing supplied directly or is not going to financially contribute to the process of getting the supply done.

SHILPA KUMAR PARTNER, OMIDYAR NETWORK INDIA

Safe and secure housing is large and complex, but if addressed, it can truly build cities, which are more fundamental drivers of growth

On understanding if housing is only an urban problem

SHRAYANA: The first principle is extremely empowered municipal governments, not this same scheme, PMAY, which runs exactly the same way with the same benefit levels. The second is that the focus in India tends to be very supply-side driven. It's around land housing construction. Obviously, there are very serious and grave regulatory challenges around this. What the government perhaps needs to do along with the employer is provide a basket of cash as well as insurance benefits. And the third would be just the capacity of the delivery system, not just an audit. If you're moving, then you should have a system of social protection that moves with you.

On solutions for a complex issue

BHIDE: We need to think of a continuum. I hope we will be able to create a few amenities for women migrants — a very vulnerable contingent, often not recognised at all.

There is a tripartite partnership, which can be created between the state, agencies and the employers. The employer's role in this is immense. On the other end of the continuum, we need to focus on how one can reduce the precarity of housing because there are several housing conditions, which shouldn't be accepted. We need to look at informal housing and begin earlier. There is no issue of acquisition the more you're able to upgrade the living conditions in the informal settlements, the conditions of rental housing would improve. I hope this will also contribute to creating a basic floor below which a quality of housing will not go. But if there are these kind of precarious housing conditions, one needs a velvet-glove approach, where the state comes in with regulatory policies but also comes in with facilitative policies. Our systems have macro details, but they don't have the micro knowledge of how things operate, of what things exist.

CONSULTATION PAPER

Sebi proposes to overhaul preferential allotment rules

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, November 26

SEBI ON FRIDAY proposed relaxing pricing norms and lock-in requirements to make it easier for companies to raise funds through preferential allotment of shares. Sebi has also proposed allowing pledging of shares allotted to the promoter or promoter group under preferential issue during the lock-in period. Sebi has sought comments from public till December 11 on the proposals.

The pricing formula for allotment of shares under preferential issue should be the Volume-Weighted Average Price (VWAP) of weekly highs and lows for 60 trading days or 10 trading days, whichever is higher, the watchdog said in a consultation paper.

At present, the pricing formula in a preferential allotment is the VWAP of the last two weeks or the last 26 weeks, whichever is higher.

Moreover, any preferential issue allotment resulting in change in control should be done following a reasoned recommendation from a committee of independent directors, Sebi said.

RTAs, merchant bankers told to put various data on websites

SEBI ON FRIDAY directed registrar and share transfer agents (RTAs) and merchant bankers to disclose investor charter as well as data pertaining to complaints they received on their websites. Rupee dives 37p to end one-month low on new Covid variant worry

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Mumbai, November 26

THE RUPEE ON Friday plunged by 37 paise or 0.50% against the US dollar to close at a nearly month's low of 74.89 as investors turned cautious in view of massive sell-offs in domestic equities and worries over a new variant of Covid-19.

The rupee erased all of its gains in the month while suffering its worst weekly loss of 59 paise since October 8 due to monthend dollar demand and on anticipation that the US Fed will accelerate asset tapering and hike interest rates around mid-2022, analysts said. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading down 0.34% at 96.44 but capped its losses on worries about newly discovered strain of coronavirus.

"Rupee erased all the gains of the month following risk-off moods afterworries over a newvariant of Covid-19 surges. Month-end dollar demand and unwinding of carry trade in global forex markets also weighed on rupee,"Dilip Parmar, research analyst, HDFC Securities, said. The rupee registered its biggest weekly fall after October 8, Parmar said.

said, adding that "now, the support has been shifted from 73.80 to 74.30".

"After a sharp appreciation of around 1.4% witnessed during the month, the rupee has given up all of the gains and is treading into the negative trajectory as the month draws to a close," Sugandha Sachdeva, vice president – commodity and currency research, Religare Broking.

The greenback has been on a strong run scaling to its highest levels for the year as markets are anticipating that the US Federal Reserve will accelerate asset tapering and hike interest rates around mid-2022, with inflation running at levels not seen in decades, Sachdeva said. Besides, concerns about the new highly-mutated coronavirus variant and lockdown fears in Europe are weighing on the sentiments.

Brent crude futures, the global oil benchmark, declined 5.50% to $77.70 per barrel. Foreign institutional investors were net sellers in the capital markets on Thursday as they offloaded shares worth ₹2,300.65 75.68, the weakest level of the year, Parmar crore, according to exchange data.

Tarsons Products shares gain nearly 27% in debut trade

Mumbai, November 26

LIFE SCIENCES COMPANY Tarsons Products listed on the exchanges on Friday amid a sharp sell-off in the markets. The stock listed at ₹700 on the BSE — a premium of 5.7% against its issue price of ₹622. On the NSE, the stock got listed at ₹682, a premium of 3%. The stock then hit its upper circuit level of 20% in the afternoon deals and finally closed at ₹840 on the BSE, up 26.89%.

However, the listing was below expectations as analysts and investors expected a 20 to 25% surge in the stock amid a hefty grey market premium before the listing. A weak trend in the secondary markets due to the panic sell-off over worries of a new mutation of the coronavirus slightly impacted the listing of the company, said analysts. The BSE Sensex closed lower by 1,687.94 points or 2.87% at 57,107.15

The ₹1,023-crore IPO witnessed an overall subscription of 77.49 times between November 15 and 17, mainly backed by strong interest from institutional investors. The company also raised ₹306 crore from anchor investors ahead of its initial public offering.

The company intends to utilise the proceeds from the IPO for debt repayment, to fund a part of capital expenditure for the newmanufacturing facility in West Bengal, and for general corporate purposes. The company has also proposed to be debt-free post the IPO and to further boost its revenues. The firm is one of India's leading labware manufacturing companies, with a robust market share of 9% to 11%. Furthermore, the Indian labware market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.8% over FY20-25, and the plastic ware sub-segment is expected to grow at a faster 16% CAGR over FY20-25, said brokerages.

While ad volumes were the highest for FMCG, the e-commerce and BFSI segments also recorded growth of 97% and 98%, respectively, against October 2019. Outlook and valuation: Positive development; maintain 'buy'. The new entity would be the largest player in the industry and fills in the gaps in ZEEL's portfolio. This also comes at a time when ad volumes are seeing recovery. October volumes were up 11% YoY and up 23% on a two-year basis. The reviving demand has led to FMCG, e-commerce, retail and banking firms coming back to media spends. Retail and personal accessories ad volumes grew 127% and 157%, respectively, over the start of January 2021. With ad revenues on track for fast recovery and a much stronger and wider content portfolio coming forth after the merger, the merged entity is all set to capture a major foothold and receive strong ad spends from industries as it would have a much wider reach. The merged entity would also have a competent and experienced board that knows the business well. In our view, the deal is a win-win for shareholders, minority shareholders and promoters.

CLASSIC vs CLASSIC

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 2021

We ride the Classic, and the decked up Classic

The price gap between the two bikes here is ₹18,500

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

THERE ARE BROADLY two kinds of twowheeler users in India: the commuter buyer who needs a two-wheeler to travel from point A to B (the choice here usually is 100-150cc engine capacity), and the aspirational buyer who has an intense desire to own a two-wheeler not just to commute but also to flaunt or simply feel good (150cc and above).

So, how do you flaunt? One of the ways is by accessorising your two-wheeler. To service the latter category of buyers, companies like Royal Enfield offer an array of accessories. We ride the Classic Chrome fitted with some of the company's Genuine Motorcycle Accessories (GMA).

The Classic Chrome, priced ₹2,15,118 (ex-showroom), is a striking motorcycle it reflects the look of British motorcycles from the 1950s, and is available in dualtone colour tanks in two colourways (chrome red and chrome bronze).

But you can deck it up, and make it look even more striking by spending less than 10% of its sticker price. We ride a unit fitted with a silver sump guard (₹2,750), rear rack (₹2,750), foot pegs (₹2,500), Airfly engine guard (₹4,250) and black touring mirrors (₹6,250), totalling ₹18,500.

First, the reaction of passers-by: The decked up Classic Chrome turns heads wherever you ride it. Especially the Airfly engine guard and the black touring mirrors help it stand out. But in addition to the looks, are there any changes to the motorcycle in terms of riding?

Silver sump guard: It helps protect the engine from pebbles etc that may deflect from the front tyre while riding off the road. It may not be a must-have accessory but is a desired one; it also gives the Classic Chrome a distinctive appearance.

Rear rack: It's a very functional accessory; in case you go on a long road trip, it can be used to tie the luggage (like a bag).

Foot-pegs: These make long-distance riding slightly more comfortable. As compared to the foot-pegs you get with the naked Classic Chrome, these have a bigger surface area and there also absorb vibrations much better.

Airfly engine guard: It's not a musthave accessory; riding in narrow lanes that exist in Indian small towns and even metro cities, it makes the motorcycle slightly more difficult to manoeuvre.

Black touring mirrors: While these have a distinctive appearance, you cannot adjust these once these have been fitted onto the Classic Chrome. It's an accessory you can even ignore, because as compared to stock rear-view mirrors, these show you slightly lesser rearward area. These aren't all. The Classic Chrome can be fitted with accessories costing up to ₹40,000 in total (including pannier, touring screen, passenger backrest, touring seats and alloy wheels).

Should you finance your two-wheeler?

While credit participation is relatively low in the entry-level two-wheeler segment as compared to four-wheelers, taking a loan can be a beneficial

SUMIT CHHAZED

TWO-WHEELERS ARE the most popular mode of personal transportation chosen by the common man in India. Reasons are affordability, easy navigation through traffic, low cost of maintenance and servicing. According to certain reports, the average time spent by a person on a twowheeler to reach a destination is almost one-third that of a four-wheeler (in our congested metro cities).

There are broadly two kinds of twowheeler users in India: the commuter buyer who needs a two-wheeler to travel from point A to B (the choice here usually is 100-150cc engine capacity), and the aspirational buyer who has an intense desire to own a two-wheeler not just to commute but also to flaunt or simply feel good (150cc and above).

Due to the pandemic and social distancing norms, a large section of the population has shifted to two-wheelers from public transport. But while buying twowheelers, new or old, credit participation is relatively low as compared to fourwheelers. Should you finance it or should you pay the entire price upfront? Here we discuss that choosing an EMI or taking a loan is like a cherry on top if you have been planning to buy a dream two-wheeler. The reasons are:

Purchasing power increases: Since the full payment need not be made at the time of buying the two-wheeler, the purchasing power of the buyer increases, giving her an opportunity to choose the best bike in the market as she has additional money to spend to be paid in instalments.

Acts as a financial relief: Paying the full amount upfront can literally burn a hole in your pocket as your savings may be used up. Unforeseen contingencies can happen at any time. On the contrary, opting for low interest rates and (non-banking financial companies) are competing against each other to offer reasonable interest rates. Rates may start from 7%, going up to 18% and above, depending on the tenure you choose (the ideal tenure is two years). One must keep in mind that two-wheeler interest rates are comparatively lower than personal loans. Inculcates a habit of savings: Since you know you have taken a loan, you would be required to keep a portion of your salary towards meeting EMIs, thus inculcating a habit of savings; these savings can be invested in areas like stocks.

Due to the pandemic and social distancing norms, a large section of the population has shifted to twowheelers from public transport

Instant loan approval: Waiting in queues to get a loan approved and the tiring process of document submission are reasons why people hesitate to take loans for vehicles. But there are a many start-ups and banks that accept applications and documents online, making it easier and stress-free for buyers. If you meet the eligibility criteria set by banks and NBFCs, plus a good credit profile, your loan can be disbursed within a few hours from the time of application.

Tax benefits: If you are a selfemployed person, you can even enjoy tax benefits in the form of tax-deductible interest. Also, buying a two-wheeler in the name of your company can even save you money on fuel, insurance and maintenance as these can be shown as deductibles from the profit of the company.

BHARTI AIRTEL RATING: BUY

Quantum of tariff hike a positive surprise

India mobile estimates up 8-15%; Ebitda CAGR of 21% is expected over FY22-24e; TP up to ₹925 from ₹860; 'Buy' retained

BHARTI'S 20-25% HIKE in the prepaid tariffs reflects that its focus is moving towards boosting realisations as against gaining market share aggressively. We believe Reliance Jio may hike tariffs too as Bharti's 20-50% premium offers significant headroom for Reliance Jio to raise tariffs. We raise our India mobile estimates by 8-15% to factor in tariff hike and expect Bharti to deliver 21% Consolidated Ebitda CAGR in FY22-24. Maintain Buy with a revised PT of ₹925.

Bharti raises prepaid tariffs by 20-25%: Bharti Airtel announced a 20-25% hike in prepaid tariffs effective from 26th November. After the sharp 60% increase in minimum prepaid voice tariffs in July-21, Bharti has raised these tariffs by another 25% to ₹99 for a 28-day plan. Tariffs in the prepaid data segment have been revised by 20% across the board. Magnitude of tariff hike surprises positively: Prepaid segment forms about 85% of Bharti Airtel's India mobile revenues and a sharp 20-25% hike in this segment will provide a meaningful boost to Bharti's overall estimates. While the 20% hike has surprised positively vs. our expectation of 7% hike in Q4FY22, we believe another tariff hike may be unlikely in Q4FY23. Consequently, we raise our ARPU estimates by 8-10% and expect Bharti to have Arpu of ₹201 by FY24.

Why has Bharti raised tariffs now? We believe Bharti's focus is slowly moving towards boosting realisations versus gaining market share aggressively. We had highlighted this change in intent after its segmented tariff hikes in July. We also note that the company's subscriber churn in Q2FY22 was lower than expected despite sharp tariff hikes in the prepaid voice segment. This may have boosted its confidence on its ability to pass on tariff hikes. That said, post this hike, Bharti's premium to Jio's prepaid data tariffs has increased from 0-25% to 20-50% which is fairly high.

Will Reliance Jio raise tariffs? We believe so. Post current tariff hikes, the cheapest JioPhone plan is at a 37% discount to Bharti's cheapest voice plan, making JioPhones more attractive to featurephone users. This may drive new subscriber additions for Reliance Jio. On the prepaid data side, Bharti's 20-50% premium to Jio offers significant headroom for Reliance Jio to raise tariffs. We do note that Reliance may have to offset this increase in smartphone tariffs by adequate cuts in JioPhone Next's pricing.

Expect Ebitda growth of 21% CAGR over FY22-24E

Bharti Consolidated Ebitda forecasts Ebitda margin (RHS)

Raise estimates/PT: We raise our India mobile revenue/Ebitda forecast by 8-15% on higher ARPU estimates. Over FY22-24, we expect Bharti to deliver 17%/21% CAGR in consol. revenue/ Ebitda, assuming no further tariff hikes till Q4FY24. Despite our projection of $11-bn capex including $2 bn for 5G spectrum, we expect Bharti to deliver $5.3 bn of cumulative FCF over FY23-24. We raise our PT to ₹925 which implies a consolidated EV/Ebitda of 8.8x, largely in line with Bharti's 3-yr average of 8.6x. Maintain Buy.

TORRENT PHARMA RATING: BUY

Firm has advantage on RM pressures

FY22/23/24e EPS down ~10-11%; TP reduced to ₹3,202; upgraded to 'Buy' rating

THERE ARE RISING market concerns on the impact of the rise in raw material prices and limited pricing power, particularly in the generics segment, on pharma companies' earnings. In this regard, we believe Torrent Pharma (TRP) is better placed vs. peers as ~ 60% of the company's revenues come from branded generics, where the company can undertake price increases. Raw materials as a percentage of sales are currently low at below 30% and the dependence on China is ~25%, according to management.

We expect sales growth in the branded generics businesses in India and Brazil to sustain in low double-digit supported by price increases. In India, TRP faces less volatility as the dependence on COVID-19 and seasonal products is low vs. peers. In fact, the improvement in patient footfalls could drive the demand for chronic segments that account for ~60% of sales. TRP has demonstrated strong execution in India, achieving significant improve-

JEFFERIES ment in field force productivity and much lower attrition than the industry. We expect TRP to expand its field force and enter into new segments in due course to sustain growth ahead of the market. The generics markets in the US and Germany remain challenging, with no visibility on the clearance of manufacturing plants by the USFDA. However, we expect a modest revival in the sales from the current low base.

Factoring in the impact of lower sales in the US and the impact of higher costs, we reduce our earnings estimates for FY22F/23F/24F by ~10-11%. We value TRP at 17.5x (unchanged) one-year forward Ebitda to arrive at our lower TP of ₹3,202. The target multiple is in line with the current trading multiple of 17.3x oneyear forward EV/Ebitda, on consensus estimates. We believe the valuation multiple is backed by strong cash flows, higher dependence on branded businesses and capital allocation discipline. TRP is currently trading at FCF yields of 3.4%/4.1%/ 4.7% on FY22F/23F/24F estimates. Our new TP presents an upside of 16% from current levels. Upgrade to Buy.

Has the Covid-19 pandemic really led to a bicycling boom in India?

Lack of a safe bicycling road infrastructure and the absence of bicycling culture are the main deterrents to mass uptake of bicycling

PANKAJ M MUNJAL

COVID-19 HAS caused a significant dent in the economy. Many businesses were forced to close, while others suffered significant losses. The only industry that perhaps grew was the bicycle industry. According to the All India Cycle Manufacturers' Association (AICMA), bicycle sales increased by more than 25% in June of last year when compared to the same month in 2019. Owing to increased safety concerns about public transportation and an increase in movement with the gradual reopening of the economy, a large number of people, it appears, opted for what is one of the most basic modes of transportation, i.e. bicycles.

In FY21, India's total vehicle registrations were around 1.5 crore units. Although Mumbai is the most car-congested city with a density of 510 private cars every kilometre, Delhi has a whopping 1 crore and more vehicles on its roads. It is no coincidence that Delhi was the world's most polluted capital for the third straight year in 2020. Traffic congestion in our four big cities has now reached pre-pandemic levels, according to a report by the Tom-Tom Traffic Index.

However, The Ministry of Covid-19 has led Housing and Urban to a surge in people using bicycles Affairs has stated for short to that bicycling for medium disshort distances can tance travels; yield annual restricted access benefits of ₹1.8 to gyms and trillion to the apprehensions Indian economy about working out in parks and while increasing other open fuel savings by spaces over ₹27 billion apparently pushed more people to take up fitness bicycling. It's true that Covid-19 has ushered in a global movement for bicycling and India is slowly catching up to that trend, with cycling to work, for leisure and for fitness becoming more acceptable than before. In June last year, there was a 25% rise in countrywide sales of bicycles compared to average monthly sales in the pre-Covid-19 period. Both normal road bikes and premium fitness segment bicycles have seen a surge in sales. An Institute for Transportation and Development Policy study has forecast that, postlockdown, bicycling is set to increase by

As lockdowns ease and the humble bicycle reclaims its rightful space on Indian roads, it offers a one-shot cure for three of the vexed issues confronting our policymakers: traffic congestion, pollution and health of our people. No less than the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs recently issued a communiqué stating that bicycling for short distances can yield an annual benefit of ₹1.8 trillion to the Indian economy while potentially increasing personal fuel savings by over ₹27 billion. This recognition at the policymaking level is an encouraging start.

50-60% in cities across the country.

Lack of safe bicycling road infrastructure and absence of bicycling culture are the main deterrents to the mass uptake of bicycling. While we are still a long way from making bicycling one of the main modes of urban transport, the pandemic has served to mainstream bicycling amongst urban youth. This much-needed respect must lay ground for a major bicycling revolution in India. Since the relaxing of lockdown restrictions, the pollution levels in many of our metros seem to be going back to the pre-lockdown levels, with Mumbai seeing a 60% jump in NO2 Promoting bicycling as a mode of transport can prevent this from happening.

World takes action as new variant emerges in southern Africa

ASSOCIATED PRESS Brussels, November 26

A SLEW OF nations moved to stop air travel from southern Africa on Friday, and stocks plunged in Asia and Europe in reaction to news of a new, potentially more transmissible Covid-19 variant.

"The last thing we need is to bring in a new variant that will cause even more problems," said German Health Minister Jens Spahn, amid a massive spike in cases in the 27-nation European Union.

Within a few days of the discovery of the new variant, it has already impacted on a jittery society that is sensitive to bad Covid-19 news, with deaths around the globe standing at well over 5 million.

There are fears that the new variant could be even more contagious than the current predominant one and could bypass the effectiveness of the vaccination campaigns.

"Early indications show this variant may be more transmissable than the delta variant and current vaccines may be less effective against it," British Health Secretary Sajid Javid told lawmakers. "We must move quickly and at the earliest possible moment,"he said.

WHO meets to designate new variant, cautions against travel measures

STEPHANIE NEBEHAY Geneva, November 26

THE WORLD HEALTH Organisation (WHO) on Friday cautioned countries against hastily imposing travel restrictions linked to the new B.1.1.529 variant of Covid-19, saying they should take a "risk-based and scientific approach".

A closed-door experts' meeting from Geneva, convened by WHO, began at midday (1100 GMT) to assess the new Covid-19 variant B.1.1.529 and to designate it as either a variant of interest or a variant of concern, spokesperson Christian Lindmeier said.

Global authorities reacted with alarm on Friday to a new coronavirus variant detected in South Africa, with the EU and Britain among those tightening border controls as scientists sought to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

"At this point, implementing travel measures is being cautioned against," Lindmeier told a UN briefing in Geneva. "The WHO recommends that countries continue to apply a risk-based and scientific approach when implementing travel measures." It would take several weeks to determine the variant's transmissibility and the effectiveness of vaccines and therapeutics against it, he said, noting that 100 sequences of the variant have been reported so far.

People should continue to wear masks whenever possible, avoid large gatherings, ventilate rooms and maintain hand hygiene, Lindmeier added.

"We don't know very much about this yet. What we do know is that this variant has a large number of mutations. And the concern is when you have so many mutations it can have an impact on how the virus behaves," said Maria van Kerkhove, an epidemiologist and WHO technical lead on Covid-19.

"This is one to watch, I would say we have concern. But I think you would want us to have concern," she told viewers of an event on social media on Thursday.

Van Kerkhove said that it was good that variants were being detected, adding: "It means that we have a system in place."

Lindmeier said that the U.N. agency's technical advisory group and other experts on virus evolution were conferring with South African researchers. — REUTERS

TOP US INFECTIOUS disease official Dr Anthony Fauci said on Friday that a ban on flights from southern Africa was a possibility and the United States was rushing to gather data on the new Covid-19 variant.

No decision to halt flights had yet been made, he said.

Global authorities have reacted with alarm to the new variant, detected in South Africa, with the European Union and Britain among those tightening border controls as scientists seek to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

The World Health Organisation (WHO), however, has cautioned against hasty measures and South Africa said a British ban on flights seemed rushed.

A planned interim analysis of the data last month showed that 7.3% of those given molnupiravir twice a day for five days were hospitalised and none had died by 29 days after the treatment. That compared with a hospitalisation rate of 14.1% for placebo patients. — REUTERS

Tesla withdraws state funding application for German battery plant

REUTERS Berlin, November 26

TESLA HAS WITHDRAWN its application for state funding for its planned battery factory near Berlin, the electric vehicle maker said on Friday, adding that construction plans were unchanged.

The European Union in January approved a plan that included giving state aid to Tesla, BMW and others to support production of electric vehicle batteries and help the bloc to reduce imports from industry leader China. Tesla was expected to receive 1.14 billion euros ($1.28 billion) in EU funding for its battery plant in Gruenheide, Brandenburg under the plan, with a final decision likely by the end of the year. Google proposes new commitments for its user-tracking cookies

REUTERS London, November 26

BRITAIN'S COMPETITION REGULATOR said on Friday it had secured improved commitments from Alphabet's Google on changes to user-tracking cookies in its browser, including the US tech giant extending the time any pledges would last to six years.

The Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) has been investigating Google's plan to cut support for some cookies in Chrome because it is concerned the move could impede competition in digital advertising.

Google proposed making changes to its plan, which is called "privacy sandbox", in June, including allowing the CMA an oversight role. Google has said the commitments, if accepted, will apply globally.

The CMA said Google had made new pledges to address some remaining concerns, including offering commitments around reducing access to IP addresses and clarifying internal limits on the data that it could use.

CMA Chief Executive Andrea Coscelli said: "We have always been clear that Google's efforts to protect users privacy cannot come at the cost of reduced competition."

Thanksgiving traditions return to US: Football, family & parades

AMERICANS FLOCKED TO parades, packed football stadiums and gathered more freely for family feasts on Thursday, grateful to celebrate Thanksgiving Day traditions again after the pandemic kept many at home last year.

The holiday dates to the early 17th century, when Pilgrims from Europe and Native Americans gathered to share the autumn bounty - a celebration of goodwill before the genocide that was to come. Nowadays, the approach of the long holiday weekend typically ignites a frenzy of travel as scattered families come together for holiday meals.

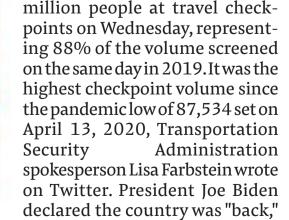

With Covid-19 deaths and infections soaring last year, many people shared turkey dinners over Zoom. Now that vaccines have

As people queued, a Walmart worker handed out coupons for items such as Apple AirPods and watches and Gateway laptops.

"I want to get a 65-inch Element TV - it's $350 off," said Martinez, who was wearing three layers of clothing, adding: "I think I'm going to get it - it's not as crowded as it used to be a few years ago." Daniella Rangel, 19, came into work at 2 a.m. to restock and prepare for the morning rush. As online shopping has taken off, Black Friday crowds have dwindled, particularly in 2020 when people were still unvaccinated and worried about Covid-19. Walmart, Best Buy and Target this year did not require shoppers who have been vaccinated to wear masks, but some indoor malls kept existing mask requirements.

At the Chicago-area stores Reuters visited, both employees and shoppers generally wore masks. Realtor Kelsey Hupp, 36, for years shopped at the Macy's department store in downtown Chicago on Black Friday. The pandemic did not deter her from keeping up this tradition. — REUTERS

Beijing presses Didi to delist from US over data security fears

CHINESE REGULATORS HAVE pressed top executives of ride hailing giant Didi Global Inc to devise a plan to delist from the New York Stock Exchange due to concerns about data security, two people with knowledge of the matter told Reuters.

China's powerful Cyberspace Administration of China (CAC) has asked the management to take the company off the U.S. bourse due to worries about leakage of sensitive data, said one of the people.

It also wants the ride-hailing giant to promise it would solve the delisting issue within a certain period of time, said the person. The cyberspace regulator said, according to the person, the prerequisite for the relaunch of Didi's ride-hailing and other apps in China is that the company has to agree to delist from New York.

NEW COVID VARIANT

At 10%, oil sees steepest one-day fall since April 20

LAURA SANICOLA November 26

OIL PRICES PLUNGED more than 10% on Friday, the largest one-day drop since April 2020, as a new COVID-19 variant spooked investors and added to concerns that a supply surplus could swell in the first quarter.

Oil fell with global equities markets on fears the variant could dampen economic growth and fuel demand. Britain and European countries have restricted travel from southern Africa, where the variant was detected.

Brent crude fell $8.77, or 10.7%, to $73.45 a barrel by 10:59 a.m. EDT (1459 GMT).

US West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude was down $9.12, or 11.6%, at $69.27 a barrel, after Thursday's Thanksgiving holiday in the United States.

Both contracts are heading for their fifth week of losses and their steepest falls in absolute terms since April 2020, when WTI turned negative for the first time.

Global authorities reacted with alarm on Friday to a new coronavirus variant detected in South Africa, with the European Union and Britain among those tightening border controls as researchers sought to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

Investors were also watching China's response to the US release of millions of barrels of oil from strategic reserves in coordination with other large consuming nations, part of its bid to cool prices. Such a release is likely to swell supplies in coming months, an OPEC source said, based on findings of a panel of experts that advises ministers of the block. —REUTERS

Prices of tomatoes spurt 142% in November, no immediate relief: Crisil

FE BUREAU Pune. November 26

TOMATO PRICES HAVE jumped by 142% year-on year in November and are likely to rise for another 45-50 days. according to Crisil Research.

Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra are key suppliers of tomato from October to December. However, with standing crops being damaged by excess rains in Karnataka (105% above normal), Andhra Pradesh (40% above normal) and Maharashtra (22% above normal), the supply has fallen.

"Our on-ground interactions indicate that the situation is so grim in Karnataka that tomatoes are being sent from Nashik in Maharashtra. Prices of tomatoes have increased 142% on-year as on November 25 and are expected to remain elevated for the next 45-50 days till the harvest from Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan reach markets across the country beginning January," said Hetal Gandhi, director, Crisil Research. She said prices are expected to decline by 30% from the current high levels of around ₹47 per kg in two-three months. Similarly, onion prices should begin easing in two weeks, Crisil said. "The onion crop, which accounts for 14% of the total vegetables produced in India, has also been affected. Transplanting was delayed in the key growing regions of Maharashtra because of deficit rains in August. That delayed arrivals in October, leading to a 65% increase in prices compared with September, Gandhi said. "Fresh arrivals are expected from the northern states such as Haryana in the next 10-15 days, which should reduce prices across India. However, since 70% of onion production happens in the rabi season, November is the major sowing month and rainfall will be the key monitorable for both arrivals and prices," Gandhi said.

abide by its commitment to not allow territories under its control for terrorism against India.

"I pay homage to all those who died in the Mumbai attack. Many brave police personnel were also martyred in the strike. I also pay homage to them," Modi said in Hindi in the video posted by the MEA on Twitter.

"India cannot forget the wounds of the Mumbai attack. Today's India is combating terrorism with a new policy and newways,"he said.

In a statement titled 'Thirteen years of seeking justice for the victims of 26/11 Mumbai terrorattacks', the MEA asserted that the terror attack was "planned, executed and launched" from Pakistani territory.

that even after 13 years of this heinous terror attack, the families of 166 victims from 15 countries across the globe still await closure, with Pakistan showing little sincerity in bringing the perpetrators to justice," it said.

The MEA said India will continue to make every effort to seek justice for the families of the "victims and the martyrs" of the attacks. "The former Prime Minister of Pakistan had gone on record and admitted that the terrorists were sent from Pakistan's soil," the MEA said, in a

says matter of concern to people committed to Constitution

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, November 26

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi on Friday tore into the Congress and some other opposition parties, saying India is heading towards a kind of crisis in the form of dynastic parties, from Kashmirto Kanyakumari,that are run and controlled by the same family for generations to pose the "biggest threat" to a healthy democracy and a concern to people committed to the Constitution.

As the prime minister targeted the opposition parties over their boycott of the event to commemorate the Constitution day at the Central Hall of Parliament, President Ram Nath Kovind said all MPs, whether representing the ruling party or the opposition, are defenders of the dignity of Parliament and competition should not be confused with rivalry. A total of 14 opposition parties including the Congress, the TMC and the DMK gave the event a miss.

While President Kovind said there may be differences of opinion but no difference should be so great as to hinder the real purpose of public service, Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu, who is the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, stressed that the Constitution requires the country to be a democratic republic and said legislatures should be guided by dialogue and debate and not be rendered dysfunctional through disruptions. At another Constitution Day event organised by the Supreme Court in the evening, Modi said Constitution is the country's greatest strength to remove obstacles being created by a colonial mindset. He said India's growth story is being disrupted by forces of colonial mindset, including in the name of freedom of expression.

New virus strain set to test Europe's economic resilience to lockdowns

BLOOMBERG November 26

THE NEW CORONAVIRUS variant is set to test the European economy's recent ability to withstand fresh restrictions on activity.

With the new strain from South Africa looming as a threat to public health, adding to the existing headache of rising infections that have already forced Austria and Slovakia to impose lockdowns, a pandemic that countries around the region had previously learned to live with is casting a shadow over the region's prospects.

European central bankers were expressing quiet confidence about the economy's ability to weather fresh restrictions before revelations of the variant emerged amid global travel curbs. Meanwhile high frequency data suggest the bruising to growth from such measures has become less painful with each successive lockdown, providing some grounds for hope.

In Japan, a weaker yen may not be the blessing it once was

REUTERS Tokyo, November 26

A WEAK YEN, once seen as favourable for Japan's exportsfocused economy, has now become a pain point as it eats into household finances and confounds policymakers.

A gradual shift by Japan's manufacturers to offshore production means a weak ven has become less of a boon for local exporters than it was about a decade ago. That shift means some at Japan's finance ministry, which is in charge of currency policy and known to step in to counter sharp yen rises, are now paying more attention to the downsides of a weaker currency, namely the effects of higher import costs.

Putting those concerns into focus this week, the dollar hit 115.525 yen, a level not seen since January 2017, as expectations for higher US interest rates propped up the greenback and Japan's economic outlook darkened.

"A weak yen pushes up import prices, weighing on profits at companies dependent on raw materials imports and household purchasing power," Citi economist Kiichi Murashima noted. "The negative impacts of a weak yen may be larger than before given the penetration ratio of imports is on the rise."Reversing the strong yen trend through massive monetary easing was one of the key goals of former Prime Minister Shinzo Abe's "Abenomics" stimulus policies over his eight years in office to 2020.

Prime Minister Fumio Kishida is expected to follow this strategy. Over that period, the yen lost 50% against the dollar.

President Luis de Guindos retained some of that sentiment on Friday.

"All the uneasiness generated by the new strain and the increase in outbreaks, I think its effects over the economy will more limited than last year. I'm optimistic," Guindos said in Spain. "However, it could affect the ongoing problems with supply bottlenecks and energy costs with more intensity."

French data support his point: Economic activity in the euro zone's second-biggest economy dropped as much as 29 percentage points during

Bloomberg Economics' high-frequency dashboard does paint a similar picture of strength in Europe's other major economies. One reason is that the prevailing policy is now that schools should remain open, allowing parents to focus less on childcare even if their country is in lockdown. Factories have also learned available testing facilities have helped that and other sectors of the economy to stay open. Paul Donovan, an economist at UBS, observes that the biggest economic damage comes from fear of the virus, and that Austrian data suggest that sentiment is less prevalent now that people have got how to operate during the pandemic. Vaccines and widely

BLOOMBERG

THE HEAD OF Britain's antitrust watchdog said he needs to pick his battles with giants such as tech Amazon.com and that global counterparts like the European Commission will often take the lead reining in Silicon Valley. Andrea Coscelli, chief executive officer of the newly beefed-up Competition and Markets Authority, told Bloomberg he may take a back seat in some cases if other agencies are already taking a close look, and that some merger probes are better suited to certain courts and jurisdictions than others.

"You cannot expect when there is a problem, every single agency to go after it, because we all have to make choices," Coscelli said in an interview, pointing to the European Union's case on Amazon's marketplace as a probe that should have UK benefits despite the CMA not having a similar case. "There's quite a lot of good stuff on tech that's happening in Brussels that will have a direct positive benefit for UK consumers."Coscelli speaking ahead of the first in-person meetings of the world's top antitrust enforcers in London since the pandemic and the first of its kind on digital markets, although some are expected only to attend online. G-7 regulators including the Federal Trade Commission's Lina Khan are expected to discuss how to better enforce competition.

UK antitrust chief: Silicon Valley will be tamed by global response

The Nov. 29-30 meeting comes as Big Tech platforms face tougher scrutiny from regulators worldwide. In the US, Khan's FTC has hit Facebook parent Meta Platforms with a new antitrust case that seeks to revisit its purchases of WhatsApp and Instagram.

The EU is close to agreeing a Digital Markets Act that might require Apple or Google to allow rival app stores to install programs on devices.

The London-based CMA has been thrust into the spotlight since emerging from the shadow of EU antitrust chief Margrethe Vestager post-Brexit. Along with regulators in the EU and US, Coscelli's agency is currently probing Nvidia's takeover of Arm and has stepped up scrutiny of Google, Apple, and Facebook.

The CMA showed it wasn't afraid to flex its muscles, fining Facebook 50.5 million pounds ($67 million) for failing to update regulators on the deal with Giphy they were investigating.

"It was important to send a signal that it was just unacceptable behaviour," Coscelli

"Facebook has an army of very good lawyers so the fact they didn't appeal says something about how they saw the facts in this particular case."
