Promoters can now retain 26% shareholding in banks

FE BUREAU New Delhi, November 26

RESERVE BANK OF India (RBI) has refrained from permitting corporate ownership of banks, putting on hold a working group recommendation that said large corporate and industrial houses may be allowed to promote banks post amendments to the Banking Regulations Act, 1949. The central bank has also not accepted a recommendation to allow well-run, large NBFCs, including those owned by a corporate house, to become banks. Both suggestions, it said, on Friday, are "under examination".

However, RBI has allowed promoters to retain a 26% shareholding in banks, higher than the current cap of 15%, bringing relief to bankers like Kotak Mahindra Bank's Uday Kotak. The 26% is in line with the ceiling on the voting rights of a shareholder and in keeping with the current FDI policy. The PJ Nayak Committee

INDIA WILL LEAD demands for an intellectual property rights waiver for Covid-19 vaccines and supplies at a World Trade Organization (WTO) meeting next week, two government officials said.

Ayear after India and South Africa introduced a proposal to temporarily waive intellectual property rights on Covid-19 vaccines and therapies at the WTO, negotiations are deadlocked in the face of opposition from some developed countries.

Shyamal Misra, a senior official at the ministry of commerce, said India would not just be speaking for itself at the WTO ministerial conference in Geneva starting on November 30, but for other developing countries with which it is working closely.

"We expect that the interests of developing countries are not compromised," Misra

Another senior government official, who is accompanying commerce minister Piyush Goyal at the meeting, told Reuters on Friday that India would push for a fair and equitable deal.

Developed countries need to understand that for the benefit of a few pharmaceutical companies they cannot put the lives of people in developing countries at risk, he said.

"All eyes are looking for a positive outcome," Sachin Chaturvedi, a government adviser and head of Delhi-based think-tank Research and Information System for Developing Countries, said.

Citing Prime Minister Narendra Modi's meeting with G20 leaders last month, he said India would be producing over five billion doses of Covid-19 vaccines for the country and the world by the end of

Insacog says tracking new variant closely

THE INDIAN SARS-COV-2 Genomics Consortium (INSACOG) is closely tracking the new variant of Covid-19 called B.1.1.529 and its presence has not been detected in the country yet, officials said on Friday. The new variant, feared to have a high amount of spike mutations, has been detected in South Africa, with the authorities there confirming 22 cases associated with it on Thursday. A senior scientist with INSACOG said the consortium is closely tracking the variant and its presence has not been detected yet in the country.

Health ministry sources said INSACOG is "very closely monitoring"the situation to check for the presence of this variant and expedite the results of genomic analysis of positive samples of international travellers. A review meeting on the matter was also learnt to have been held. There has been no isolation of the variant so far, a source said. Samples of all international passengers are being collected and positive samples will be specifically looked at for B1.1.529. — PTI

Serum Institute resumes Covid-19 vaccine exports

FE BUREAU

Pune, November 26

SERUM INSTITUTE OF India (SII) on Friday resumed exports to the international vaccine sharing programme COVAX. The first batches of its Covishield

Covid-19 vaccine left the SII manufacturing facility in Pune for distribution to low and middle income countries via the COVAX mechanism.

SII's supply of doses via COVAX is expected to increase substantially in the first quarter of 2022.

SII also surpassed the 1.25 billion vaccine doses production at its Pune facility. The company said resumption of exports was linked to SII surpassing its original target to produce one billion doses of Covishield by the end of this year. SII had reached this milestone ahead of time via rapid expansion of production capacity at its site in Pune, the company said. SII will bring into production other vaccines under licence, which will include Covovax from US-based company Novavax that received its first Emergency Use Authorisations (EUAs) from regulators in Indonesia and the Philippines.

Regulatory reviews are pending for Covovax in India and with the World Health Organization.

Adar Poonawalla, CEO of Serum Institute of India, said, "It's a huge moment to begin exports again, for us, our partners at COVAX and the low- and middleincome countries we support.

"The world has largely depended on the low-cost, high-quality pharmaceuticals and vaccines that India has traditionally exported, so we are delighted to support the global vaccination effort once more." AstraZeneca, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Gavi, UNICEF and the WHO had shown confidence in SII's ability to keep on track and they were all hopeful of meeting WHO's target to vaccinate 70% of the world's population by the middle of next year, Poonawalla said.

Dr Seth Berkley, CEO of Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, which leads the COVAX Facility said the resumption of supplies from Serum Institute was an important development for COVAX as it entered its busiest period yet for shipping vaccines to participating economies.

COVAX's portfolio is now much more diversified than it was earlier this year and Covishield remains an important product, Berkley said.

SIXTH EDITION: HOW CAN WE IMPROVE HOUSING FOR MIGRANTS?

AMITA BHIDE PROFESSOR, TATA INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

We've equated housing to permanent housing, ownership housing... We've not talked about migration. There is policy amnesia when it comes to thinking about (housing for) migrants

GAUTAM BHAN ASSOCIATE DEAN, INDIAN INSTITUTE OF HUMAN SETTLEMENTS

You can't answer a housing question in a structurally unequal economy where wages are stagnant. There is no market and no supply solution that will do enough

MANIKANDAN KP INSTITUTION BUILDER, INDIAN HOUSING FEDERATION

What we should realise is that we are also part of the problem and we have created this problem. It is our responsibility to find a solution

SHRAYANA BHATTACHARYA SENIOR SOCIAL PROTECTION ECONOMIST, WORLD BANK

The focus in India is supplyside driven. Obviously, there are serious regulatory challenges. But if you look at Latin America, they've used a lot of demand-side incentives

'Boosting housing supply is necessary, not sufficient'

At the sixth edition of the eight-part IE Thinc Migration series, presented by The Indian Express with Omidyar Network India and moderated by deputy associate editor Udit Misra, panelists discussed solutions around complexities in regulation, migrant identity, credit worthiness and their role in providing housing for migrants

IQBAL SINGH CHAHAL, COMMISSIONER, BRIHANMUMBAI MUNICIPAL CORPORATION (BMC)

MIGRANT LABOUR IS the backbone of the economy. They have a major role in developing the country. The government of Maharashtra had passed a very ambitious new housing policy way back in 2008, where the concept of rental housing was launched for the first time. The Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority (MMRDA) was made a nodal agency for the entire MMR — these are eight-nine municipal corporations in and around Mumbai, including MCGM (Municipal Corporation for Greater Mumbai), which houses almost 2.5 crore population and more than a million migrant population. And this rental housing would be provided to migrant labourers by charging some nominal monthly rent. Many developers came forward. So, right now, 42,000 tenements are under construction, which can house more than a lakh people. The 42,000 tenements, which have sanctions, include major real estate players like Tata, Dosti Group, Symphony and Adhiraj. Anyone who comes to Mumbai, instead of staying in an unauthorised manner in slums, can be given this rented accommodation till he gets a proper place. Then we came up with this very ambitious policy of accommodation reservation under which we will build a sizeable amount of rental housing in the next five years. This is something which can help migrant labourers. I'm sure this idea can be replicated in many bigger cities of India, where the local municipal authority doesn't shell out anything at all except the construction cost of that building.

On understanding migrant behaviour

GAUTAM BHAN: Migrants are not unmarked bodies that come only into housing markets marked by demand and supply. They are a part of deep identitylinked movements that are shaped in certain ways. So why do we not learn from migrants on how they have produced that housing and what can we do to make this process easier, shorter and better. I think it's important that we don't start seeing migrants as helpless, invisible, unseen. They are hyper visible and deliberately invisibilised.

We can't build our way out of India's housing shortage. We will never, no matter how well-intentioned the government is, have the capacity to build at the scale we want. The largest stock of affordable housing in Indian cities has been built by people themselves, always in tension with law and planning. But the major work has to say: protect, regulate, recognise all the informal, inadequate rental housing that is all over our cities today. Begin to protect and improve that housing.

On jurisdiction and government responsibility

SHRAYANA BHATTACHARYA: The solution always seems to be a scheme and it's the same housing scheme. One of the key principles of the housing policy has to be decentralisation. It has to allow and empower local governments, not just at the state level, I would contend, particularly if you look at the Mexican, Brazilian, or even Chinese examples, the way a lot of these problems are addressed is not by having a one-size-fits-all programme. It in fact, creates regulation, which allows for a lot more dynamism.

On what's holding back the state government

MANIKANDAN: The simple answer to this is the greater level of difficulty in getting this solved. In rental housing, the user who's going to pay the rent is not going to participate in the process of getting the housing supplied directly or is not going to financially contribute to the process of getting the supply done.

SHILPA KUMAR PARTNER, OMIDYAR NETWORK INDIA

Safe and secure housing is large and complex, but if addressed, it can truly build cities, which are more fundamental drivers of growth

On understanding if housing is only an urban problem

SHRAYANA: The first principle is extremely empowered municipal governments, not this same scheme, PMAY, which runs exactly the same way with the same benefit levels. The second is that the focus in India tends to be very supply-side driven. It's around land housing construction. Obviously, there are very serious and grave regulatory challenges around this. What the government perhaps needs to do along with the employer is provide a basket of cash as well as insurance benefits. And the third would be just the capacity of the delivery system, not just an audit. If you're moving, then you should have a system of social protection that moves with you.

On solutions for a complex issue

BHIDE: We need to think of a continuum. I hope we will be able to create a few amenities for women migrants — a very vulnerable contingent, often not recognised at all.

There is a tripartite partnership, which can be created between the state, agencies and the employers. The employer's role in this is immense. On the other end of the continuum, we need to focus on how one can reduce the precarity of housing because there are several housing conditions, which shouldn't be accepted. We need to look at informal housing and begin earlier. There is no issue of acquisition the more you're able to upgrade the living conditions in the informal settlements, the conditions of rental housing would improve. I hope this will also contribute to creating a basic floor below which a quality of housing will not go. But if there are these kind of precarious housing conditions, one needs a velvet-glove approach, where the state comes in with regulatory policies but also comes in with facilitative policies. Our systems have macro details, but they don't have the micro knowledge of how things operate, of what things exist.

CONSULTATION PAPER

Sebi proposes to overhaul preferential allotment rules

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, November 26

SEBI ON FRIDAY proposed relaxing pricing norms and lock-in requirements to make it easier for companies to raise funds through preferential allotment of shares. Sebi has also proposed allowing pledging of shares allotted to the promoter or promoter group under preferential issue during the lock-in period. Sebi has sought comments from public till December 11 on the proposals.

The pricing formula for allotment of shares under preferential issue should be the Volume-Weighted Average Price (VWAP) of weekly highs and lows for 60 trading days or 10 trading days, whichever is higher, the watchdog said in a consultation paper.

At present, the pricing formula in a preferential allotment is the VWAP of the last two weeks or the last 26 weeks, whichever is higher.

Moreover, any preferential issue allotment resulting in change in control should be done following a reasoned recommendation from a committee of independent directors, Sebi said.

SEBI ON FRIDAY directed registrar and share transfer agents (RTAs) and merchant bankers to disclose investor charter as well as data pertaining to complaints they received on their websites. PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Mumbai, November 26

THE RESERVE BANK of India on Friday said it has imposed a penalty of ₹1 crore on State Bank of India (SBI) for deficiencies in regulatory compliance.

The penalty has been imposed by an order dated November 16, 2021, the RBI said in a statement.

According to the central bank, the statutory inspections for supervisory evaluation its financial positions as on March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2019. The examination of the risk assessment reports, inspection report and all-related correspondence pertaining to the same revealed contravention of a provision of the Banking Regulation Act "to the extent the bank held shares in borrower companies, as pledgee of an amount exceeding 30% of paid-up share capital of those companies".

A show cause notice was issued to the bank. After considering the bank's reply to the notice, oral submissions, and additional submissions made by the bank, the RBI said it came to the conclusion that the charge of contravention of the provisions of the Act was substantiated and warranted imposition of monetary penalty.

The RBI said the penalty is based on deficiencies in regulatory compliance and was not intended to pronounce upon the validity of any transaction or agreement entered into by SBI with its customers.

Tega's maiden public offer is entirely an offer for sale (OFS) of 1.37 crore equity shares by its existing shareholders and promoters.

Bank of Baroda raises ₹1,997 cr via Basel III bonds

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, November 26

STATE-OWNED BANK of Baroda (BoB) on Friday said it has raised ₹1,997 crore by issuing Basel III-compliant bonds.

The bank said it issued a total of 1,997 bonds of ₹1 crore each under this issue to a total of 21 allottees.

To comply with Basel-III Capital Regulations, banks need to improve and strengthen their capital planning processes.

final stages. In the last week of September, ZEE had announced an exclusive period of 90 days for mutual diligence. The new entity will be India's largest media company with leadership in almost every genre and language across India. The $1.57-billion capital infusion will allow it to compete with global giants in OTT, apart from investing in premium content, including sports. This development happened at a time when TV ad volumes were higher by 11% YoY and 23% on a two-year basis with 22% new advertisers. Ad volumes were highest for the FMCG sector, while ecommerce and BFSI recorded growth of 97% and 98%, respectively, on a two-year basis. We continue to monitor legal and regulatory issues.

THE MERGER OF ZEE and Sony is in the Rising confidence on merger with ZEE: As per Punit Goenka, MD & CEO of ZEEL, the merger of ZEE and Sony Pictures Networks India (SPN) is in the final stages of stitching up. The merged entity will also focus on sports. The rising digital landscape has opened up new opportunities in sports for monetisation. Although ZEE has been late in embracing new technology, it will now catch up very quickly with global players. Indian SVOD market will grow to 200million over the next five years. ZEE5 has 40-50million subscribers and around 300million monthly views. We will however monitor how the two OTT platforms would be merged and how their content overlap would be tackled.

October data reiterate TV ads to coexist with digital: Ad volumes on television for October stood at 178 million seconds, highest for 2021 and higher by 11% YoY. There were 4,624 brands and a total of 2,851 advertisers in the month, with 22% being new advertisers, as per BARC. Ad volumes for the Dussehra week grew by 13% over the previous four weeks and by 25% over 2019. While ad volumes were the highest for FMCG, the e-commerce and BFSI segments also recorded growth of 97% and 98%, respectively, against October 2019. Outlook and valuation: Positive development; maintain 'buy'. The new entity would be the largest player in the industry and fills in the gaps in ZEEL's portfolio. This also comes at a time when ad volumes are seeing recovery. October volumes were up 11% YoY and up 23% on a two-year basis. The reviving demand has led to FMCG, e-commerce, retail and banking firms coming back to media spends. Retail and personal accessories ad volumes grew 127% and 157%, respectively, over the start of January 2021. With ad revenues on track for fast recovery and a much stronger and wider content portfolio coming forth after the merger, the merged entity is all set to capture a major foothold and receive strong ad spends from industries as it would have a much wider reach. The merged entity would also have a competent and experienced board that knows the business well. In our view, the deal is a win-win for shareholders, minority shareholders and promoters.

CLASSIC vs CLASSIC

We ride the Classic, and the decked up Classic

The price gap between the two bikes here is ₹18,500

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

THERE ARE BROADLY two kinds of twowheeler users in India: the commuter buyer who needs a two-wheeler to travel from point A to B (the choice here usually is 100-150cc engine capacity), and the aspirational buyer who has an intense desire to own a two-wheeler not just to commute but also to flaunt or simply feel good (150cc and above).

So, how do you flaunt? One of the ways is by accessorising your two-wheeler. To service the latter category of buyers, companies like Royal Enfield offer an array of accessories. We ride the Classic Chrome fitted with some of the company's Genuine Motorcycle Accessories (GMA).

The Classic Chrome, priced ₹2,15,118 (ex-showroom), is a striking motorcycle it reflects the look of British motorcycles from the 1950s, and is available in dualtone colour tanks in two colourways (chrome red and chrome bronze).

But you can deck it up, and make it look even more striking by spending less than 10% of its sticker price. We ride a unit fitted with a silver sump guard (₹2,750), rear rack (₹2,750), foot pegs (₹2,500), Airfly engine guard (₹4,250) and black touring mirrors (₹6,250), totalling ₹18,500.

First, the reaction of passers-by: The decked up Classic Chrome turns heads wherever you ride it. Especially the Airfly engine guard and the black touring mirrors help it stand out. But in addition to the looks, are there any changes to the motorcycle in terms of riding?

Silver sump guard: It helps protect the engine from pebbles etc that may deflect from the front tyre while riding off the road. It may not be a must-have accessory but is a desired one; it also gives the Classic Chrome a distinctive appearance.

Rear rack: It's a very functional accessory; in case you go on a long road trip, it can be used to tie the luggage (like a bag).

Foot-pegs: These make long-distance riding slightly more comfortable. As compared to the foot-pegs you get with the naked Classic Chrome, these have a bigger surface area and there also absorb vibrations much better.

Airfly engine guard: It's not a musthave accessory; riding in narrow lanes that exist in Indian small towns and even metro cities, it makes the motorcycle slightly more difficult to manoeuvre.

Black touring mirrors: While these have a distinctive appearance, you cannot adjust these once these have been fitted onto the Classic Chrome. It's an accessory you can even ignore, because as compared to stock rear-view mirrors, these show you slightly lesser rearward area. These aren't all. The Classic Chrome can be fitted with accessories costing up to ₹40,000 in total (including pannier, touring screen, passenger backrest, touring seats and alloy wheels).

Should you finance your two-wheeler?

While credit participation is relatively low in the entry-level two-wheeler segment as compared to four-wheelers, taking a loan can be a beneficial

SUMIT CHHAZED

TWO-WHEELERS ARE the most popular mode of personal transportation chosen by the common man in India. Reasons are affordability, easy navigation through traffic, low cost of maintenance and servicing. According to certain reports, the average time spent by a person on a twowheeler to reach a destination is almost one-third that of a four-wheeler (in our congested metro cities).

There are broadly two kinds of twowheeler users in India: the commuter buyer who needs a two-wheeler to travel from point A to B (the choice here usually is 100-150cc engine capacity), and the aspirational buyer who has an intense desire to own a two-wheeler not just to commute but also to flaunt or simply feel good (150cc and above).

Due to the pandemic and social distancing norms, a large section of the population has shifted to two-wheelers from public transport. But while buying twowheelers, new or old, credit participation is relatively low as compared to fourwheelers. Should you finance it or should you pay the entire price upfront? Here we discuss that choosing an EMI or taking a loan is like a cherry on top if you have been planning to buy a dream two-wheeler. The reasons are:

Purchasing power increases: Since the full payment need not be made at the time of buying the two-wheeler, the purchasing power of the buyer increases, giving her an opportunity to choose the best bike in the market as she has additional money to spend to be paid in instalments.

Acts as a financial relief: Paying the full amount upfront can literally burn a hole in your pocket as your savings may be used up. Unforeseen contingencies can happen at any time. On the contrary, opting for low interest rates and be utilised during emergency. Low interest rates: Banks and NBFCs

EMI can save you some money that could

(non-banking financial companies) are competing against each other to offer reasonable interest rates. Rates may start from 7%, going up to 18% and above, depending on the tenure you choose (the ideal tenure is two years). One must keep in mind that two-wheeler interest rates are comparatively lower than personal loans. Inculcates a habit of savings: Since you know you have taken a loan, you would be required to keep a portion of your salary towards meeting EMIs, thus inculcating a habit of savings; these savings can be invested in areas like stocks.

Due to the pandemic and social distancing norms, a large section of the population has shifted to twowheelers from public transport

Instant loan approval: Waiting in queues to get a loan approved and the tiring process of document submission are reasons why people hesitate to take loans for vehicles. But there are a many start-ups and banks that accept applications and documents online, making it easier and stress-free for buyers. If you meet the eligibility criteria set by banks and NBFCs, plus a good credit profile, your loan can be disbursed within a few hours from the time of application.

Tax benefits: If you are a selfemployed person, you can even enjoy tax benefits in the form of tax-deductible interest. Also, buying a two-wheeler in the name of your company can even save you money on fuel, insurance and maintenance as these can be shown as deductibles from the profit of the company.

BHARTI AIRTEL RATING: BUY

Quantum of tariff hike a positive surprise

India mobile estimates up 8-15%; Ebitda CAGR of 21% is expected over FY22-24e; TP up to ₹925 from ₹860; 'Buy' retained

BHARTI'S 20-25% HIKE in the prepaid tariffs reflects that its focus is moving towards boosting realisations as against gaining market share aggressively. We believe Reliance Jio may hike tariffs too as Bharti's 20-50% premium offers significant headroom for Reliance Jio to raise tariffs. We raise our India mobile estimates by 8-15% to factor in tariff hike and expect Bharti to deliver 21% Consolidated Ebitda CAGR in FY22-24. Maintain Buy with a revised PT of ₹925.

Bharti raises prepaid tariffs by 20-25%: Bharti Airtel announced a 20-25% hike in prepaid tariffs effective from 26th November. After the sharp 60% increase in minimum prepaid voice tariffs in July-21, Bharti has raised these tariffs by another 25% to ₹99 for a 28-day plan. Tariffs in the prepaid data segment have been revised by 20% across the board. Magnitude of tariff hike surprises positively: Prepaid segment forms about 85% of Bharti Airtel's India mobile revenues and a sharp 20-25% hike in this segment will provide a meaningful boost to Bharti's overall estimates. While the 20% hike has surprised positively vs. our expectation of 7% hike in Q4FY22, we believe another tariff hike may be unlikely in Q4FY23. Consequently, we raise our ARPU estimates by 8-10% and expect Bharti to have Arpu of ₹201 by FY24.

Why has Bharti raised tariffs now? We believe Bharti's focus is slowly moving towards boosting realisations versus gaining market share aggressively. We had highlighted this change in intent after its segmented tariff hikes in July. We also note that the company's subscriber churn in Q2FY22 was lower than expected despite sharp tariff hikes in the prepaid voice segment. This may have boosted its confidence on its ability to pass on tariff hikes. That said, post this hike, Bharti's premium to Jio's prepaid data tariffs has increased from 0-25% to 20-50% which is fairly high.

Will Reliance Jio raise tariffs? We believe so. Post current tariff hikes, the cheapest JioPhone plan is at a 37% discount to Bharti's cheapest voice plan, making JioPhones more attractive to featurephone users. This may drive new subscriber additions for Reliance Jio. On the prepaid data side, Bharti's 20-50% premium to Jio offers significant headroom for Reliance Jio to raise tariffs. We do note that Reliance may have to offset this increase in smartphone tariffs by adequate cuts in JioPhone Next's pricing.

Raise estimates/PT: We raise our India mobile revenue/Ebitda forecast by 8-15% on higher ARPU estimates. Over FY22-24, we expect Bharti to deliver 17%/21% CAGR in consol. revenue/ Ebitda, assuming no further tariff hikes till Q4FY24. Despite our projection of $11-bn capex including $2 bn for 5G spectrum, we expect Bharti to deliver $5.3 bn of cumulative FCF over FY23-24. We raise our PT to ₹925 which implies a consolidated EV/Ebitda of 8.8x, largely in line with Bharti's 3-yr average of 8.6x. Maintain Buy.

TORRENT PHARMA RATING: BUY

Firm has advantage on RM pressures

FY22/23/24e EPS down ~10-11%; TP reduced to ₹3,202; upgraded to 'Buy' rating

THERE ARE RISING market concerns on the impact of the rise in raw material prices and limited pricing power, particularly in the generics segment, on pharma companies' earnings. In this regard, we believe Torrent Pharma (TRP) is better placed vs. peers as ~ 60% of the company's revenues come from branded generics, where the company can undertake price increases. Raw materials as a percentage of sales are currently low at below 30% and the dependence on China is ~25%, according to management.

We expect sales growth in the branded generics businesses in India and Brazil to sustain in low double-digit supported by price increases. In India, TRP faces less volatility as the dependence on COVID-19 and seasonal products is low vs. peers. In fact, the improvement in patient footfalls could drive the demand for chronic segments that account for ~60% of sales. TRP has demonstrated strong execution in India, achieving significant improve### ment in field force productivity and much lower attrition than the industry. We expect TRP to expand its field force and enter into new segments in due course to sustain growth ahead of the market. The generics markets in the US and Germany remain challenging, with no visibility on the clearance of manufacturing plants by the USFDA. However, we expect a modest revival in the sales from the current low base.

Factoring in the impact of lower sales in the US and the impact of higher costs, we reduce our earnings estimates for FY22F/23F/24F by ~10-11%. We value TRP at 17.5x (unchanged) one-year forward Ebitda to arrive at our lower TP of ₹3,202. The target multiple is in line with the current trading multiple of 17.3x oneyear forward EV/Ebitda, on consensus estimates. We believe the valuation multiple is backed by strong cash flows, higher dependence on branded businesses and capital allocation discipline. TRP is currently trading at FCF yields of 3.4%/4.1%/ 4.7% on FY22F/23F/24F estimates. Our new TP presents an upside of 16% from current levels. Upgrade to Buy.

Key risks: slower than estimated growth in India, adverse regulatory development, and adverse currency movements.

Has the Covid-19 pandemic really led to a bicycling boom in India?

Lack of a safe bicycling road infrastructure and the absence of bicycling culture are the main deterrents to mass uptake of bicycling

PANKAJ M MUNJAL

COVID-19 HAS caused a significant dent in the economy. Many businesses were forced to close, while others suffered significant losses. The only industry that perhaps grew was the bicycle industry. According to the All India Cycle Manufacturers' Association (AICMA), bicycle sales increased by more than 25% in June of last year when compared to the same month in 2019. Owing to increased safety concerns about public transportation and an increase in movement with the gradual reopening of the economy, a large number of people, it appears, opted for what is one of the most basic modes of transportation, i.e. bicycles.

In FY21, India's total vehicle registrations were around 1.5 crore units. Although Mumbai is the most car-congested city with a density of 510 private cars every kilometre, Delhi has a whopping 1 crore and more vehicles on its roads. It is no coincidence that Delhi was the world's most polluted capital for the third straight year in 2020. Traffic congestion in our four big cities has now reached pre-pandemic levels, according to a report by the Tom-Tom Traffic Index.

However, Covid-19 has led to a surge in people using bicycles for short to medium distance travels; restricted access to gyms and apprehensions about working out in parks and other open spaces apparently pushed more people to take up

The Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs has stated that bicycling for short distances can yield annual benefits of ₹1.8 trillion to the Indian economy while increasing fuel savings by over ₹27 billion fitness bicycling. It's true that Covid-19 has ushered in a global movement for bicycling and India is slowly catching up to that trend, with cycling to work, for leisure and for fitness becoming more acceptable than before. In June last year, there was a 25% rise in countrywide sales of bicycles compared to average monthly sales in the pre-Covid-19 period. Both normal road bikes and premium fitness segment bicycles have seen a surge in sales. An Institute for Transportation and Development Policy study has forecast that, postlockdown, bicycling is set to increase by 50-60% in cities across the country.

As lockdowns ease and the humble bicycle reclaims its rightful space on Indian roads, it offers a one-shot cure for three of the vexed issues confronting our policymakers: traffic congestion, pollution and health of our people. No less than the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs recently issued a communiqué stating that bicycling for short distances can yield an annual benefit of ₹1.8 trillion to the Indian economy while potentially increasing personal fuel savings by over ₹27 billion. This recognition at the policymaking level is an encouraging start.

Lack of safe bicycling road infrastructure and absence of bicycling culture are the main deterrents to the mass uptake of bicycling. While we are still a long way from making bicycling one of the main modes of urban transport, the pandemic has served to mainstream bicycling amongst urban youth. This much-needed respect must lay ground for a major bicycling revolution in India. Since the relaxing of lockdown restrictions, the pollution levels in many of our metros seem to be going back to the pre-lockdown levels, with Mumbai seeing a 60% jump in NO2 Promoting bicycling as a mode of transport can prevent this from happening.

World takes action as new variant emerges in southern Africa

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Brussels, November 26

A SLEW OF nations moved to stop air travel from southern Africa on Friday, and stocks plunged in Asia and Europe in reaction to news of a new, potentially more transmissible Covid-19 variant.

"The last thing we need is to bring in a new variant that will cause even more problems," said German Health Minister Jens Spahn, amid a massive spike in cases in the 27-nation European Union.

Within a few days of the discovery of the new variant, it has already impacted on a jittery society that is sensitive to bad Covid-19 news, with deaths around the globe standing at well over 5 million.

There are fears that the new variant could be even more contagious than the current predominant one and could bypass the effectiveness of the vaccination campaigns.

"Early indications show this variant may be more transmissable than the delta variant and current vaccines may be less effective against it," British Health Secretary Sajid Javid told lawmakers. "We must move quickly and at the earliest possible moment," he said.

"Investors are likely to shoot first and ask questions later until more is known," said Jeffrey Halley of foreign exchange broker Oanda.

Oil prices plunged, with US crude off 6.7% at $73.22 per barrel and the international Brent benchmark off 5.6% at $77.64, both unusually large moves for a single day. The pandemic caused oil prices to plunge during the initial outbreak of the pandemic in 2020 because travel restrictions reduced demand for fuel.

Airlines shares were hammered, with Lufthansa off 12.4%, IAG, parent of British Airways and Iberia, off 14.4%, Air France-KLM down 8.9% and easyJet falling 10.9% The World Health Organisation cautioned not to jump to conclusions too fast. Speaking before the EU announcement, Dr. Michael Ryan, the head of emergencies at the WHO said that "it's really important that there are no knee-jerk responses."

"We've seen in the past, the minute there's any kind of mention of any kind of variation and everyone is closing borders and restricting travel. It's really important that we remain open, and stay focused," Ryan said.

It quickly fell on deaf ears.

The UK announced that it was banning flights from South Africa and five other southern African countries effective at noon on Friday, and that anyone who had recently arrived from those countries would be asked to take a coronavirus test.

WHO meets to designate new variant, cautions against travel measures

STEPHANIE NEBEHAY Geneva, November 26

THE WORLD HEALTH Organisation (WHO) on Friday cautioned countries against hastily imposing travel restrictions linked to the new B.1.1.529 variant of Covid-19, saying they should take a "risk-based and scientific approach".

A closed-door experts' meeting from Geneva, convened by WHO, began at midday (1100 GMT) to assess the new Covid-19 variant B.1.1.529 and to designate it as either a variant of interest or a variant of concern, spokesperson Christian Lindmeier said.

Global authorities reacted with alarm on Friday to a new coronavirus variant detected in South Africa, with the EU and Britain among those tightening border controls as scientists sought to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

"At this point, implementing travel measures is being cautioned against," Lindmeier told a UN briefing in Geneva. "The WHO recommends that countries continue to apply a risk-based and scientific approach when implementing travel measures." It would take several weeks to determine the variant's transmissibility and the effectiveness of vaccines and therapeutics against it, he said, noting that 100 sequences of the variant have been reported so far.

People should continue to wear masks whenever possible, avoid large gatherings, ventilate rooms and maintain hand hygiene, Lindmeier added.

"We don't know very much about this yet. What we do know is that this variant has a large number of mutations. And the concern is when you have so many mutations it can have an impact on how the virus behaves," said Maria van Kerkhove, an epidemiologist and WHO technical lead on Covid-19.

"This is one to watch, I would say we have concern. But I think you would want us to have concern," she told viewers of an event on social media on Thursday.

Van Kerkhove said that it was good that variants were being detected, adding: "It means that we have a system in place."

Lindmeier said that the U.N. agency's technical advisory group and other experts on virus evolution were conferring with South African researchers. — REUTERS

TOPUS INFECTIOUS disease official Dr Anthony Fauci said on Friday that a ban on flights from southern Africa was a possibility and the United States was rushing to gather data on the new Covid-19 variant.

Global authorities have reacted with alarm to the new variant, detected in South Africa, with the European Union and Britain among those tightening border controls as scientists seek to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

Cryptocurrencies tumble as Covid variant shakes global markets

TOM WILSON London, November 26

BITCOINTUMBLED OVER 9% on Friday, dragging smaller tokens down, after the discovery of a new, potentially vaccineresistant coronavirus variant saw investors dump riskier assets for the perceived safety of bonds, the yen and the dollar.

Bitcoin, the largest digital currency, fell as much as 9.2% to $53,551, its lowest since October 10. The second largest cryptocurrency ether fell over 13% to its lowest in a month as investors ditched cryptocurrencies.

Bitcoin hit an all-time high of $69,000 earlier this month as more large investors embraced cryptocurrencies, with many drawn to its purported inflation-resistant qualities.

Others have piled into the digital token on the promise of quick gains, a draw that has been heightened by record low or negative interest rates. Yet bitcoin's volatility has lingered, drawing questions over its suitability as a stable store of value.

Our pill cuts hospitalisation, death risk by 30%, claims Merck

MERCK SAID ON Friday its experimental Covid-19 pill reduced the risk of hospitalisation and death by 30% in a study, according to data from all the patients enrolled in a late-stage study.

The company said the data on the drug molnupiravir, developed with Ridgeback Biotherapeutics, had been submitted to the US Food and Drug Administration ahead of a meeting of its expert advisers on Tuesday.

A planned interim analysis of the data last month showed that 7.3% of those given molnupiravir twice a day for five days were hospitalised and none had died by 29 days after the treatment. That compared with a hospitalisation rate of 14.1% for placebo patients. — REUTERS

TESLA HAS WITHDRAWN its application

The European Union in January approved a plan that included giving state aid to Tesla, BMW and others to support production of electric vehicle batteries and help the bloc to reduce imports from industry leader China. Tesla was expected to receive 1.14 billion euros ($1.28 billion) in EU funding for its battery plant in Gruenheide, Brandenburg under the plan, with a final decision likely by the end of the year. The US carmaker did not say why it had

Meanwhile, construction of a car production site alongside the battery plant, which Tesla has begun building under pre-approval permits while it awaits final approval from the regional government, has made good progress in the last few weeks, a spokesperson for the federal economy ministry said.

"Tesla has informed the Federal Ministry of Economics and the Brandenburg Ministry of Economics... it is withdrawing its IPCEI application for state funding for the battery factory in Grünheide," a Tesla spokesperson said, referring to European subsidies allocated to so-called 'Important Projects of Common European Interest'.

ITALY HAS given safe haven to Sharbat Gula, the green-eyed "Afghan Girl"whose 1985 photo in National Geographic became a symbol of her country's wars, Prime Minister Mario Draghi's office said on Thursday. The government intervened after Gula asked for help to leave Afghanistan following the Taliban takeover of the country in August, a statement said, adding that her arrival was part of a broader programme to evacuate and integrate Afghan citizens. # Google proposes new commitments for its user-tracking cookies

REUTERS London, November 26

BRITAIN'S COMPETITION REGULATOR said on Friday it had secured improved commitments from Alphabet's Google on changes to user-tracking cookies in its browser, including the US tech giant extending the time any pledges would last to six years.

The Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) has been investigating Google's plan to cut support for some cookies in Chrome because it is concerned the move could impede competition in digital advertising.

Google proposed making changes to its plan, which is called "privacy sandbox", in June, including allowing the CMA an oversight role. Google has said the commitments, if accepted, will apply globally.

The CMA said Google had made new pledges to address some remaining concerns, including offering commitments around reducing access to IP addresses and clarifying internal limits on the data that it could use.

CMA Chief Executive Andrea Coscelli said: "We have always been clear that Google's efforts to protect users privacy cannot come at the cost of reduced competition."

Black Friday 'early birds' find stores less crowded, fewer bargains Son asked by Target to help out on as it used to be a few years ago."

ARRIANA MCLYMORE
Chicago, November 26

BARGAIN HUNTERS VENT

BARGAIN HUNTERS VENTURED out in chilly weather to buy Christmas gifts on Black Friday, finding stores less crowded than in years past as major US retailers opened their doors early.

A shift online, Covid fears and less-steep discounts have thinned crowds on the day after the US Thanksgiving holiday which kicks off the year-end shopping season. Many shoppers are also choosing curbside pick-up rather than venturing inside.

"What a lot of customers are doing is drive-up, they don't even enter the store. I think that's one of the reasons it looks quiet," Ian Korolenko, 29, a vacuum salesperBlack Friday.
"I also think a lot of these stores

"I also think a lot of these stores do their Black Friday deals earlier in the week now, and a lot of them go online now."

Francisco Martinez, 22, a delivery driver, was one of more than 100 people standing outside a Walmart Supercenter in the Kilbourn Park neighborhood of Chicago before 5 a.m. in 20 degree Fahrenheit (-7 degree Celsius) weather.

As people queued, a Walmart worker handed out coupons for items such as Apple AirPods and watches and Gateway laptops.

watches and Gateway laptops.

"I want to get a 65-inch Element TV - it's $350 off," said Martinez, who was wearing three layers of clothing, adding: "I think I'm going to get it - it's not as crowded

as it used to be a few years ago."
Daniella Rangel, 19, came into work at 2 a.m. to restock and prepare for the morning rush.

As online shopping has taken off, Black Friday crowds have dwindled, particularly in 2020 when people were still unvaccinated and worried about Covid-19.

Walmart, Best Buy and Target this year did not require shoppers who have been vaccinated to wear masks, but some indoor malls kept existing mask requirements.

At the Chicago-area stores Reuters visited, both employees and shoppers generally wore masks. Realtor Kelsey Hupp, 36, for years shopped at the Macy's department store in downtown Chicago on Black Friday. The pandemic did not deter her from keeping up this tradition.

China's powerful Cyberspace Administration of China (CAC) has asked the management to take the company off the U.S. bourse due to worries about leakage of sensitive data, said one of the people.

It also wants the ride-hailing giant to promise it would solve the delisting issue within a certain period of time, said the person. The cyberspace regulator said, according to the person, the prerequisite for the relaunch of Didi's ride-hailing and other apps in China is that the company has to agree to delist from New York.

NEW COVID VARIANT

At 10%, oil sees steepest one-day fall since April 20

LAURA SANICOLA November 26

OIL PRICES PLUNGED more than 10% on Friday, the largest one-day drop since April 2020, as a new COVID-19 variant spooked investors and added to concerns that a supply surplus could swell in the first quarter.

Oil fell with global equities markets on fears the variant could dampen economic growth and fuel demand. Britain and European countries have restricted travel from southern Africa, where the variant was detected.

Brent crude fell $8.77, or 10.7%, to $73.45 a barrel by 10:59 a.m. EDT (1459 GMT).

US West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude was down $9.12, or 11.6%, at $69.27 a barrel, after Thursday's Thanksgiving holiday in the United States.

Both contracts are heading for their fifth week of losses and their steepest falls in absolute terms since April 2020, when WTI turned negative for the first time.

Global authorities reacted with alarm on Friday to a new coronavirus variant detected in South Africa, with the European Union and Britain among those tightening border controls as researchers sought to find out if the mutation was vaccine-resistant.

Investors were also watching China's response to the US release of millions of barrels of oil from strategic reserves in coordination with other large consuming nations, part of its bid to cool prices. Such a release is likely to swell supplies in coming months, an OPEC source said, based on findings of a panel of experts that advises ministers of the block. —REUTERS

Prices of tomatoes spurt 142% in November, no immediate relief: Crisil

FE BUREAU Pune. November 26

TOMATO PRICES HAVE jumped by 142% year-on year in November and are likely to rise for another 45-50 days. according to Crisil Research.

Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra are key suppliers of tomato from October to December. However, with standing crops being damaged by excess rains in Karnataka (105% above normal), Andhra Pradesh (40% above normal) and Maharashtra (22% above normal), the supply has fallen.

"Our on-ground interactions indicate that the situation is so grim in Karnataka that tomatoes are being sent from Nashik in Maharashtra. Prices of tomatoes have increased 142% on-year as on November 25 and are expected to remain elevated for the next 45-50 days till the harvest from Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan reach markets across the country beginning January," said Hetal Gandhi, director, Crisil Research. She said prices are expected to decline by 30% from the current high levels of around ₹47 per kg in two-three months.

Similarly, onion prices should begin easing in two weeks, Crisil said. "The onion crop, which accounts for 14% of the total vegetables produced in India, has also been affected. Transplanting was delayed in the key growing regions of Maharashtra because of deficit rains in August. That delayed arrivals in October, leading to a 65% increase in prices compared with September, Gandhi said. "Fresh arrivals are expected from the northern states such as Haryana in the next 10-15 days, which should reduce prices across India. However, since 70% of onion production happens in the rabi season, November is the major sowing month and rainfall will be the key monitorable for both arrivals and prices," Gandhi said.

says matter of concern to people committed to Constitution

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, November 26

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi on Friday tore into the Congress and some other opposition parties, saying India is heading towards a kind of crisis in the form of dynastic parties, from Kashmirto Kanyakumari,that are run and controlled by the same family for generations to pose the "biggest threat" to a healthy democracy and a concern to people committed to the Constitution.

As the prime minister targeted the opposition parties over their boycott of the event to commemorate the Constitution day at the Central Hall of Parliament, President Ram Nath Kovind said all MPs, whether representing the ruling party or the opposition, are defenders of the dignity of Parliament and competition should not be confused with rivalry. A total of 14 opposition parties including the Congress, the TMC and the DMK gave the event a miss.

While President Kovind said there may be differences of opinion but no difference should be so great as to hinder the real purpose of public service, Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu, who is the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, stressed that the Constitution requires the country to be a democratic republic and said legislatures should be guided by dialogue and debate and not be rendered dysfunctional through disruptions. At another Constitution Day event organised by the Supreme Court in the evening, Modi said Constitution is the country's greatest strength to remove obstacles being created by a colonial mindset. He said India's growth story is being disrupted by forces of colonial mindset, including in the name of freedom of expression.
